

NOTICE:

The Washington CSD is aware of the difficulties Open Road Driving School has had with an instructor in the Iowa City/Williamsburg area. There is a lot of false information going around about the status of the school and the Washington CSD. An order was issued by the DOT that any student who has a certificate that was signed from this school between June 23rd and July 2nd of 2014 will be required to do a driving test with the DOT. It does not affect any other students and the program in Washington. The individual in question did not instruct or drive with any Washington CSD students. We are monitoring the situation in consideration for future contracting, but current drivers education students will not have any extra restrictions or requirements encumbered upon them. Questions can be directed to Erik Buchholz at the high school.
