

Thank you to both Mr. Keith Lazar & Mr. Brandon Long for volunteering their time to helping students at the Washington Middle School in Financial/ Economic education. Both Mr. Lazar & Mr. Long are in their second year of volunteering at the Middle School in Mrs. Meyer's room. They are involved in teaching Junior Achievement Economics for Success lessons to middle school students. Keith and Brandon teach six financial literacy lessons to students in social problem on topics such as budgeting, credit cards and interest. Students learn many real life skills that they will use in the coming years as they become economically independent. The Washington Middle School would like to thank Mr. Lazar & Mr. Long for their efforts along with Washington State Bank who has provided financial support to allow us to maintain Junior Achievement in our school.
