

Many of you have heard of the new regulations with our school lunch program. One of the main changes in the program is that students are faced with some decisions and choices with what to choose for the day. It has always been a challenge for our students to see over the serving stations. This year, custom made ramps were made to help students get a birds eye view on their choices. Our full-day preschool through second grades will use the ramps.